About Dr. Catalin J.

Dr. Catalin J. is a motivated and hands-on general dentist at the beginning of his professional career, with a solid academic background and growing clinical experience in general dentistry. He graduated in Dental Medicine from the “Victor Papilian” Faculty of Medicine at Lucian Blaga University of Sibiu and has since worked in several private clinics, where he steadily developed his clinical and organizational skills.

Catalin is known for his practical mindset, reliability, and strong sense of responsibility in the clinical setting. He approaches dentistry in a structured and careful manner, focusing on accurate treatment planning, proper execution of procedures, and maintaining high standards of hygiene and patient safety. His experience working both as a dentist and as a dental assistant has given him a thorough understanding of clinical workflows, teamwork, and daily practice organization.

He is particularly interested in general dentistry, preventive care, and routine restorative treatments, and he values continuous learning and professional development. Catalin thrives in well-organized environments where collaboration, guidance, and patient-centered care are central.

Motivated to further develop his skills and gain international experience, Catalin is open to new professional challenges and eager to grow within a structured and supportive dental system.

Catalin is highly motivated to relocate to the Netherlands, where he looks forward to building both his professional and personal future. He is genuinely enthusiastic about Dutch culture, the structure of the healthcare system, and the emphasis on quality and teamwork. He takes the Dutch language course very seriously, invests significant effort into learning the language, and is committed to integrating fully into both the workplace and society. He is eager to give his best, embrace new challenges, and grow within a structured and supportive Dutch dental system.
