About Dr. Valentin E.

Dr. Valentin E. is a committed and experienced general dentist with over a decade of clinical practice in both urban and rural dental settings. He graduated in Dental Medicine from the University of Medicine and Pharmacy Craiova and has since developed a broad, well-rounded skill set across general, preventive, restorative, prosthetic, and endodontic dentistry.

Valentin is known for his reliability, practical mindset, and strong sense of responsibility toward patient care. Throughout his career, he has worked both as an employee and as the owner of private dental practices, which has given him a deep understanding of clinical workflows, patient management, and the organizational aspects of running a dental office. He approaches dentistry in a structured and careful manner, focusing on accurate diagnosis, long-term treatment planning, and consistent quality of care.

He has extensive experience treating a wide and diverse patient population, including working independently in rural environments where adaptability, clear communication, and a preventive mindset are essential. His clinical interests include conservative dentistry, prosthetics, endodontic treatments, and maintaining long-term oral health through patient education and preventive care.
